INDUTRY EXPECTATIONS FROM A FRESHER

An engineer must possess good communication skill if he expects to be hired into a good firm or organization. All the complicated theories and laws are of no use if the candidate cannot communicate his thoughts in proper words. Good knowledge of English and the ability to communicate effectively thus play a vital role .

Engineers usually hold significant positions in the firm or organization they join. They may have to communicate with foreign delegates and important clients .

Grasp on English language and the ability to speak in many different accents are preferred by employers. Engineers need to get trained to communicate well. There are several crash courses that ensure you get a grasp on the right accent .
